Dear Mr. Marsh:

Attn: Charles N. Smith

Dear Mr. Smith:

This letter comes to inform you that we strongly disagree with the Council's decision to expel my son Prince Marsh from the University in the absence of due process. Mr. Marsh has not been found guilty of the alleged violations lodged against him and therefore should not be treated as a convicted felon.

Certainly we acknowledge the seriousness of the alleged offenses, however, in this country we enjoy certain constitutional guarantees--that the Council has apparently no regard for. We, therefore want to put the University on notice that we intend to petition the courts in a suit for punitive and compensatory;--i.e., monetary damages for infringement upon of the Civil Rights of the accused.

As the mother of the accused I would be remiss to not to challenge the sanction(s) of this quasi-judicial body in which the cart has been placed before the horse. And if your Student Handbook provides for such premature sanctions, then perhaps a revision is in order. Surely, the theory of being innocent until proven guilty has been disregarded and we insist that the University take and make the appropriate amendments in its rules, policies and practices.

Yours truly,

Diana L. Kelly diana l. kelly
